AN OPPORTUNITY.

Some of our merchants in town are now selling saving stamps, and a look through our advertising columns will show that some are making good offers as an inducement to get the children starting along the line of thrift and saving. In one case stamps are given away with every purchase of a certain amount. This is a good way to give the boys and girls a start and also get them interested in the shopping. The great thing is saving—especially with children—is to get them started. Once they get a few dollars saved up it is wonderful the interest they take in their bank account themselves. The opportunity to get thrift stamps not only teaches the children to save, it introduces them into the business world and along lines of safe investments. Apart from this side of the question, this system also provides the opportunity for all, no matter what his or her circumstances, to play an important part in financing our country through the present serious stage of its career.

DELAY NECESSARY.

There appears to be a growing uneasiness in all countries over the delay in the final settlement of negotiations at the peace conference. While all are anxious for this settlement and a return to business on a permanent peace basis, yet it must be remembered that there are many important questions for discussion and if these questions are not settled to the entire satisfaction of all concerned, we cannot possibly have that permanent peace for which we all so devoutly hope. A little delay now, therefore, may save endless trouble later on.

The fluid character of conditions in the countries of the Central Powers leads all to press for a speedy peace treaty that shall stabilize them, but this very fluidity adds to the complexity of the problem and delays its solution.

Then between the seven powers which fought the war the peace terms are not easy to agree upon. The treatment Germany is to receive, the amount of indemnity she is to pay, the restrictions, if any, upon her competition in the world trade pending the slow industrial recovery of France and Belgium, the balancing consideration of her heavy indemnity and her opportunity for freedom in trade to enable her to play it, the defensive frontier of France, the Italian frontier on the Adriatic shore, the boundaries of the new states, the definition of neighborhood rights, the Balkan boundaries, the autonomous units in Asia Minor, the disposition of the German colonies—all this involve controversy, and some of the most acute and irritating character.

All things being considered, it cannot be expected that this, the most important peace conference in history can be rushed through in a few months. In the Spanish-American war it was four months between the signing of the armistice and the signing of the Treaty of Paris. This was for a war that only begun the previous April and the questions to be settled were of a comparative simple nature which involved two nations. The period between the armistice and the treaty of peace in the Franco-Russian war was about the same length and there the issues were simple and limited to two countries. The Congress of Vienna, met to arrange the map of Europe after the Napoleonic wars, took a year for its deliberations and the conferees had only kings and emperors to satisfy.

We see, therefore, that the delegates now at Paris have been under unreasonably slow in their work, considering the great detail and the many conflicting interests they have to settle and agree upon.

Down in Manitoba a number of Menominee were sent to jail because they wouldn't send their children to school as required by law. They preferred jail to a school. It only took a few days of Manitoba jail fare and physical exercise to put a little elastic into their consciences. They eventually paid their fines and promised to send their children to the proper school. There's only one way to deal with foreigners who want to try to run this country to their own liking, and Manitoba has taken that way.

Addressing the forum at Calgary the other day a man named Moore took a crack at the newspapers. As an argument for a government owned and controlled press he said that editors filled their papers with "rot" that they knew was not true. Mr. Moore's speech appears in full in the Calgary dailies. No doubt all who read the speech will conclude that there is some truth in what Mr. Moore says about papers publishing "rot."

Some of the draymen and delivery drivers have formed the very bad habit of driving over the sidewalks at any point to suit their own convenience, paying little or no attention to the regular crossings. As a result our walks are being badly damaged and plastered with mud. This is a very thoughtless and expensive habit. There is a town bylaw prohibiting this and it is about time it was enforced.

Citizens of countries which have been our enemies in the Great War hold $22,000,000 worth of C. P. R. shares. Just think what a percentage of the money raised by increased freight rates and paid by our people of Canada would find its way into enemy hands. It's no wonder the Dominion government is calling for the appointment of a custodian for these holdings.

There is much grief in various constituencies which were seeking the prizes of the three new demonstration farms, which have gone to Gilehen, Taber and Acadia constituencies respectively. If these new demonstration farms are to be run along the lines that the farm just east of town is run the disappointed constituencies haven't lost much.

It appears to be taking the Railway Commission a long time to decide whether or not the Canadian railroads were justified in adopting the daylight saving system. In the meantime town and cities are forced to have a dual time system. This is very confusing and should be settled one way or the other at once.

The official announcement from a Russian consul that no more Russians are allowed to leave this continent to return to though Trotsky and Lenin are afraid these civilized Russians might put some horse sense into their relatives at home and they would be out of a job.

According to reports from ex-officers in Winnipeg that city is filled with whisky stills. Previous to this report we were led to believe it was our fertile prairie farms that were attracting so many to this country from Dakota.

The high wind last Friday served as a reminder that there are a few brick walls in town, monuments of recent fires, which should be torn down before future winds blow them over on passers by.

Most towns and cities are now setting aside a day for spring cleaning up of streets, back yards and lanes. When Redcliff sets such a day it might be a good time to clean up the old Laurel hotel corner.

Borrowing at Home Instead of Going Abroad.

Canada having, during the last two years of the war, demonstrated her ability to finance herself, it is now expected, both at home and abroad, that she will continue to do so. London advisers say that she is expected to meet loans falling due there this year and that Canadians residing there admit that this should be done, in addition to the financing of the Dominion's growing foreign trade.

Canadian opinion also pretty generally agreed that it is in the interest of the country that this should be done. There is a feeling that while some borrowing may have to be done, the power for Canada. Indeed the wisdom of converting Canada from a borrowing into a lending nation is so manifest that there is a general demand that this be done.

War Savings Stamps are a step in this direction, for through their sale funds are placed in the hands of the Dominion government. In other words this means that, instead of borrowing in London and New York, the government is being to get at home the funds it needs. It has also arranged that any person having $400, may thus lend to the government, which pays 4 1/2 per cent compounded half-yearly.

Canadian Deserters Shot At the Front

Hon. Hugh Guthrie stated in the house of commons yesterday that he had been informed that a number of Canadian deserters overseas had been executed. Others had received sentences up to thirty years. He said the punishments in England were more severe than in this country. General Hughes said they had been tried by court martial and shot both in England and at the front.

Canada's Important Part in the War

The Canadian government has recently issued a Red Book of up-to-date facts entitled "Canada's Part in the Great War," which can be secured by addressing the Department of Information, Ottawa.

A perusal of this pamphlet of 64 pages surely illuminates Canadian patriotism, which has just met triumphant the severest possible tests. It gives us amazing data of Canada's military prowess created and organized under terrific pressure. It shows us that with practically no army at all at the start of 1914 we grew into the important factor in the Great World War. The First Canadian Division, hastily raised and equipped, totalled 33,000 men. It crossed the ocean in the autumn of 1914, and was speedily followed by other units of Canadian troops, including the Canadian Cavalry Brigade, until the total expeditionary force in overseas numbered in November last 158,000, and the Canadian enlistments on that date had reached 585,441.

Of the latter, no less than 465,994 were volunteers. The Military Service Act was responsible for only 38,355. The Canadian Royal Air Force, which has so distinguished itself, totalled 13,000; the Imperial Motor Transport 710; the Inland Water Service, 4,701; and the Palestine contingent comprised 42 Irish lads.

The Canadian casualties total 218,433. When Canada had been little over 15 months in the service her dead and wounded reached 144,000.

About 60 Canadian won the Victoria Cross, 66,697 were given the Military Medal, 158 the military Cross, and over 3,000 were mentioned in dispatches.

When we come to examine Canada's record at home during the war, we are no less astonished at her accomplishments. This non-military nation developed suddenly into a huge market of munitions. The value of munitions and materials exported from Canada in 1914 was $28,164. In 1917 her output was worth $22,153,252. No less than 65,543,547 Canadian shells were exported, and 48,627,673 cartridge cases, in addition to great quantities of fuses, explosives, metal, lumber and other stores.

Canada's crops of wheat, oats and hay were almost doubled in order to feed starving Europe. She gave over $95,000,000 in war funds, the Canadian Patriotic Fund alone totaling $42,864,397.

Chauffeurs Must Have Reference in Future

Hon. J. L. Cote, provincial secretary, told the legislature Saturday morning that in the future, references as to the good character and ability of chauffeurs would be required from the local police before the provincial department issued a chauffeur's license. The statement was made after a criticism by George Howley, leader of the opposition, that chauffeurs were entirely too careless in the handling of their cars.

The soviet republic in Bavaria was officially proclaimed, according to a dispatch received from Munich.

Ex-Kaiser is Still Entirely Impudent

A London journalist, reporting an interview with the ex-Kaiser at Amerongen, discloses interesting sidelights on the worst living criminal in captivity, go out of it. He emphasizes the fact that Wilhelm is "entirely impudent." He is moody and indolent, and increasingly religious, of course, but he is not sorry for his position. On the other hand, he is inclined to be generous with his enemies. He indicates (to an interviewer) no bitterness against the big world that curses him as the assassin of millions of its bravest sons.

"War was made by the diplomats," declares the ex-Emperor. "I did not want war. Nicholas did not want war. George did not want war. We were all dead against war." Then he recalls some of the mistakes of his youth when he "came to the throne too young." But he is amiable to his God. But denies the right of any earthly tribunal to judge him.

Calls Movie Pictures Nothing but Trash

"Moving pictures of sentimental subjects, and sensational movie picture advertising came under fire in the legislature Saturday morning, the question being raised by George Howley, leader of the opposition.

He said a large percentage of the pictures now shown were nothing but trash. Instead of good, interesting, instructive and healthy pictures, are smothered with rot, sentimental stuff. We are allowing weeds to grow up in the minds of our children which can do untold money and effort to eradicate, and we are doing it just to put money into the pockets of men who think only of the business as a means of getting rich.

Mr. Howley was supported by members of both sides of the house.

The Russian consul at Vancouver states that in future the Russian frontier in the far east has been closed for the admission of Russian emigrants from the continent.

No Drop in Prices

In Canada Just Yet

With the idea of stimulating trade within the Dominion by encouraging immediate buying, the Canadian Trade Commission has just secured returns of certain foodstuffs now offering at prices favorable to buyers. It is the belief of the commission's managers that no immediate drop in general prices can take place in Canada yet, the commission is doing everything possible to urge a subsidence of prices to restore confidence in the domestic market, and it suggests that whenever possible it would be wise to undertake buying now. It is known that retail stocks are low, and that large numbers of merchants are "holding off" in the hope that there will be a general slump. As the peace treaty is not yet signed, and it may be many months before anything approaching normal conditions can be expected in Europe, there is no sign that expectation of this drop is justified.

From the returns already made to the commission, it appears that Atlantic producers are able to fill large orders for choice grade split herrings and cod oil at really very favorable prices. New Brunswick packers have quantities of the small herrings prepared as "sardines" and there is a considerable quantity of chin and salmon available on the British Columbian market.

Wheat flour can just now be supplied in unlimited quantities at prices favorable to purchasers, and there are large stocks of oatmeal and rolled oats as well as dedicated vegetables in cash stored within the Dominion. Before the war Canada regularly imported large quantities of beans of all sorts, owing to the very large production last year there are now some two and a half million bushels available for export.

Inquiries may be addressed to the Canadian Trade Commission, Ottawa.

Province Makes Money In Liquor Business

In the three years, 1916, 1917 and 1918, the province derived a total revenue from the sale of liquor of more than a quarter of a million dollars, according to figures read in the house by Attorney-General J. R. Boyce, in reply to questions by Major J. R. Lowery.

The exact revenue was $264,316.55, divided as follows:

1916	$4,482.34
1917	$19,912.25
1918	$240,949.00

The great increase since 1918 is explained by the fact that prior to April 15, 1918, durgists were at liberty under the Liquor Act to import their own liquor, and most durgists did so. Since then it has been necessary for them to purchase their liquor from the government vendors.

Replying to another question by Major Lowery, Attorney-General Boyce said that the total amount of money expended by the province in the purchase of 1916, 1917 and 1918 was $250,574.54, divided as follows:

1916	$9,929.50
1917	14,424.55
1918	$116,467.26

The total value of liquor on hand on Dec. 31, 1918, was given as: In Edmonton, $15,461.80; in Calgary, $13,725.18, thus showing that Edmonton apparently had the edge on Calgary on that date in preparedness against "dryness."

Predicts Dominion Election This Fall

A dispatch from Ottawa quoting a "public man of national reputation" with the statement that there will be a general election in autumn and that the tariff will be the issue. The belief prevails in well informed circles the dispatch adds, that the issue is upon upon the question that nothing but an appeal to the country will decide it. The possibility of the government arranging a compromise between western agriculturists and the eastern manufacturers is fading into the mist as both bodies are stiffening their opposition to each other, the dispatch adds.

Trains from the north and east entering Denver are running from one to ten hours behind time as a result of the wind, and snowstorms that swept the western states last Sunday. Severe weather is reported in Montana and Wyoming. Fifteen inches of snow is reported at Cheyenne. The heaviest snow storm of the season swept over South Dakota. Two and one-half feet of snow fell and trains were tied up.

High Price Paid

For Prize Stock

When O. G. Beeching, of De Winton, paid $3,100 for Dale's May, a short-horn heifer, owned by Hon. Duncan Marshall, at the Brandon sale last Friday, and shortly afterwards purchased Lady Lancaster XVI for $2,500, a record for the Canadian sale ring was established. Dale's May won the lieutenant-governor's gold medal at the Calgary-Waterloo Fair, where she was shown by Duncan Marshall, Jr. Mr. Beeching bought up seven head of thoroughbred stock at the Brandon sale and paid out $9,000, making an average of $1,414 a head.

Petroleum Resources of Northern Alberta

Up to the present time, all in considerable quantities has not been found in western Canada. Respecting the possibility that petroleum will be discovered, particularly in the Viking area and the Peace and Athabasca valleys, the situation may be summed up as very promising.

A small quantity of dark oil obtained in one of the wells in the Viking gas-field is an encouraging indication, and oil has also been found in the Pelican Rapids gas well. Seepages of oil have been found near Waterton lake in southwestern Alberta, and in the Flathead valley in southeastern British Columbia.

In northern Alberta, there are enormous tar seepages which evidence an upwelling of petroleum unequalled elsewhere in the world. Along the Athabasca river, they extend from Pelican Rapids to Fort McKay, a distance of over 100 miles. The known seepages indicate that there is in sight at least 6½ cubic miles of bitumen, and the petroleum from which was derived must have been many times greater. While this enormous amount of petroleum has escaped, there must be untapped reservoirs in the Devonian limestone where it was derived. Similar seepages occur near the Peace and Mackenzie river.

Ontario to Vote

On Liquor Question

In the Ontario legislature Sir Wm. Hearst announced that a plebiscite will be taken in Ontario on a date to be announced by the lieutenant-governor in council, upon the four questions as published last Saturday:

1. Repeal of the Ontario temperance act.
2. Sale of light beer in sealed packages under government control.
3. Sale light beer over the bar.
4. Restrictive sale of spirituous liquors in general under government control.

TO PROVIDE NURSES

IN OUTLYING DISTRICTS.

In discussing the estimates in the house on Saturday Mr. Mackay said a vote of $30,000 was to give nursing assistance where it was required in outlying districts, especially for maternity cases. The co-operation of the Women's Institutes also would be sought in placing school inspection nurses in the proper centres.

Canadian Woman First To Fill Mayor's Chair

For the first time in history in the British Empire a woman occupied the mayor's chair when, Monday night, Ald. Mrs. Gale, of Calgary, in a brief absence of Mr. Marshall from the council chamber, accepted the duties of the office of acting mayor.

Ald. Gale is the first woman in Canada to be elected to the office of alderman as a member of the municipal body, and has served for a year and a half. She was, at the last meeting of the city council, appointed acting mayor for the ensuing three months, which, according to the custom governing acting mayors, will place on her the responsibility of taking over the duties of mayor on any absence of the chief magistrate from the city.

BILL FOR HALF HOLIDAY

UP IN LEGISLATURE.

A new bill, providing for the establishment of a universal half-holiday on Saturdays throughout the province, was introduced in the legislature, Tuesday afternoon, by W. M. Davidson (government), North Calgary. The object of the measure is to do away with the confusion of varying half-holidays in different cities and collisions with the Factory Act.

That there will be coal miners strike in district 18 over the six-hour day proposal is indicated in a signed statement by President Christopher.

Work is progressing favorably at the Pressed Brick plant since it started operations last week. Improvements made in the equipment have greatly improved conditions and now all previous records for the daily output are being broken. Yesterday this plant increased its output by over 1,000 bricks and it is expected that this will be slightly increased today.

Quite a healthy wind storm held the boards for a few hours around here last Friday night and the early hours of Saturday night. At first it blew from the southwest and later from the northwest. Considerable damage was done around town but it was all of a minor nature. Windows were blown out of several private houses and bridges were dislocated from some tender buildings.

Already farmers in this district are making enquiries for farm help and they are experiencing some difficulty getting it. If anyone wishing to get such employment will call at this office we can find places for them.

The post office at Box Springs has been discontinued and now most of the farmers of that district get their mail in Redcliff. At present arrangements are being made to have rural mail delivery in that district.

There is evidently considerable "flu" throughout the province yet. Reports indicate there is still a great demand for nurses in outlying towns and districts and that difficulty is being experienced to supply the demand.

The Overland Greenhouses here now have nice crop of tomatoes ready for the market. They are in good condition and prospects are promising for a good crop. This crop is about two months earlier than last year and the tomatoes are in great demand in all the larger centres.

Alfred Waserley met with a painful accident while engaged at his work at the Pressed Brick Plant here. He had the misfortune to break his leg and was otherwise badly bruised. His injuries are, however, not serious and latest reports from the Medicine Hat hospital state that he is progressing favorably.

Chief Roberts made quite a round-up of boys in town who have evidently formed the very bad habit of breaking windows and otherwise destroying vacant buildings. One building which these lads have been paying special attention to lately, looks as though it had come through a heavy bombardment of the western front. We understand it is the intention of the chief to make the boys repair all the damage done.

The is still considerable material on hand to be made up but volunteers are still very scarce. An extra effort is to be made next week to have this work on hand given out and it is hoped that all will assist in getting it cleaned up as soon as possible.
